Nobody Is Listening

Song Lyrics

(CHORUS)

You
who talk with your hands
Don't you understand?

Nobody is listening
Right is stronger than might
No reason to fight
Nobody is listening to you, no!

Noone 's listening to you, no, no!

Two kids, they talk.
"Get lost! Shut up!"
They hurt with words
But that's not enough.
They use their hands
To show who's tough.
They hit, they cry.
They hurt, and why?
When you start to fight
Please stop and ask why.

CHORUS

Big Joe thinks he's cool
Because he wins every fight.
He thinks being strong
Is better than being right.
He thinks scaring people
Is better than being liked.
The biggest and the strongest
So often win the day.
It doesn't mean they're right,
Just that they got their way.

Dance Movements

Point a finger forward
Ball up your fists and beat them forward rhythmically
Lift your hands up to your shoulders, palms facing up and out to suggest you're asking a question, and look around at the others
Place your hands over your ears (not your fingers)
Point to your temples with your index fingers
Flex your biceps like a body builder
Beat one palm into the other fist
Reach your arm forward, extend your index finger and move it from side to side
Repeat the previous gesture

Nobody Is Listening

Song Lyrics

CHORUS

Violence on the TV
Is fantasy, fantasy.
Violence in reality
Means people cry or bleed.
The need to hurt is a sickness
It's a plague, it's a big mess.
Don't buy it, don't try it.
Black eyes are not prizes.
So hey! Use some words,
Not your hands.
Take a stand!
