

Dance Movements

Peace Is Breaking Out

Song Lyrics

Take my hand, my friend War could finally end

Can we see

All we see

And turn away?

I believe

The end could start right

here today

Peace is breaking out

All around the world

Everybody say

“No war today”

Peace is breaking out

All around the world

Or maybe I was just dreaming

Dance Movements

-Stretch a hand out, palm up, and offer it to the others

-Make a gun with your hands and point up (with your palm facing forward)

-Open your hand and stretch your arm out in front of your, palm facing forward

-Point to your eyes with your index fingers

-Sweep your arms to the sides in a semicircle

-Place your right hand against your temple with your palm open (to cover your eyes) and turn your head left

-Place a hand on your heart

-Stretch your arm out with your hand, palm open and facing forward

-Point down with your index finger rhythmically

-Make the peace sign (a “V” with your middle and index fingers) and move it from side to side

-Starting with both hands above your head, slowly draw a big circle downward

-Slowly sweep your arms to the sides in a semicircle

-Make a stop sign with one arm extended forward and your hand raised, palm facing forward

-Make the peace sign (a “V” with your middle and index fingers) and move it from side to side

-Starting with both hands above your head, slowly draw a big circle downward

-Shrug with your arms extended slightly to the sides and with your palms facing up

-Raise your hands above your head, palms down like a ballerina, and wiggle your fingers as you open your arms and move them down on either side